RESUME It is important to bring printed copies of your resume to hand to recruiters even though nearly all employers require job seekers to apply online. A printed resume gives the recruiter something to look at while meeting with you. It also is something they can take back to their office with notes of your meeting. WorkOne and IndySHRM will have booths for last minute resume assistance. We will also have a copier on hand so you can make a few extra copies if you run out.

30 SECOND ELEVATOR PITCHES Prepare and practice a short speech covering your key skills and accomplishments that would be of interest to employers. Be prepared to convey to employers your strengths, accomplishments, and merits over other job seekers to capture and maintain their interest.

EMPLOYER RESEARCH All our sponsors and participating employers have been posted to our website. We strongly encourage you to look through this list and research employers that interest you. Get a good idea of their history, culture, future plans, and open positions. Being able to discuss specifics about the employer will get you noticed.

HAVE A PLAN Don't just wander aimlessly from booth to booth. What are you wanting to accomplish at Operation Hire A Hoosier Vet? Is it to follow up on a recent application? Make connections and network? Learn more about a career field or particular employer? Don't waste your time or that of the recruiters.

FOLLOW UP We highly encourage job seekers to follow up with employers who interest them. Be sure to get contact/follow up information when speaking to recruiters. Following up can make the difference between getting a job offer and being lost in the stack of other candidates.
